Scope and Content

The Moses Stuart Papers, 1802-1848, primarily document the professional work of Stuart. The bulk of the collection is arranged according to order prescribed by Stuart in a manuscript dated April 1837, "Expression of my desire, as to the disposal of my Manuscripts, viz. Lectures, Sermons, Essays, etc., which are not published. [Also in regard to the republication of some of my works already published]."

In addition to the items described above, there is some correspondence related to an unsigned review of sermons on the atonement by James Murdock, Daniel Dana and Moses Stuart, which appeared in Christian Spectator, vol. 9, September 1, 1824. Provenance of this material is not known, although the letters were discovered with the Edwards Amasa Park Papers.

Also, there are 4 letters of the Stuart family, gift of Mary Stuart Anthony.
