

Now streaming: Digital Theatre Plus

Award-winning West End theatre
Available to watch online
on campus and at home

David Suchet and Zoë Wanamaker star in All My Sons. Photo: Helen Warner.

You can now watch the best of British theatre, captured in High Definition and available to stream at the touch of a button with Digital Theatre Plus. Featuring world-renowned plays by Shakespeare, O'Neill, Miller and many others, Digital Theatre Plus can be watched online on campus or at home. Ask your librarian for more information and your login details.

Digital Theatre Plus

To explore, visit www.digitaltheatreplus.com now

February 28, 2014

Yale University Library now subscribes to the streaming video database Digital Theatre Plus [1]. Videos included are complete, recently-filmed stage productions of plays, musicals, and operas from the Royal Shakespeare Company, the Young Vic, and other well-known West End companies and venues. The “Productions” tab lists all available productions, including INTO THE WOODS, A DOLL’S HOUSE, MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING, and LONG DAY’S JOURNEY INTO NIGHT, as well as more contemporary plays. The most recent addition is Noel Coward’s PRIVATE LIVES [2]. In addition to the performance videos, Digital Theatre Plus includes “Making Theatre” interviews with cast and crew on creative and technical production, as well as study guides.

External link: <http://web.library.yale.edu/arts/news/digitaltheatreplus> [3]

Now streaming: Digital Theatre Plus

Published on Yale University Library (<https://web.library.yale.edu>)

Source URL: <https://web.library.yale.edu/arts/news/digitaltheatreplus?page=3>

Links

[1] <http://www.digitaltheatreplus.com> [2] <https://www.digitaltheatreplus.com/news/no%C3%ABl-cowards-private-lives-now-available-on-digital-theatre-plus> [3] <http://web.library.yale.edu/arts/news/digitaltheatreplus>