General Information

Preliminary records are created for collections which will not be processed immediately. These can be closed collections, in which all materials have been received, or ongoing collections, in which more materials will be received in the future. Preliminary records consist of a bibliographic record, one or more mfhd records, and, if applicable, one or more item records. Features of a preliminary bibliographic record are:

Contains at least the following fields: Leader [2], 008 [3], 040 [4], 1XX [5] (if applicable), 245 [6], 300 [7], brief 520 [8], 555 [9] (if applicable), at least one 6XX [10], and 852 [11].

Leader/Encoding level [12]: 7 (Minimal level processing).

Date span: for unprocessed collection of personal papers, if undetermined, may be given as "ca. [birth date]-[death date]" in 245 ‡f [6]. Date span of an ongoing collection may be given as "[ongoing]" in 245 ‡f, with "9999" in the 008 Date 2 [13], or as an estimated closing date in 245 ‡f and 008 Date 2.

300 [7]: contains estimated linear footage. For an ongoing collection, may be given as "ms."

520 [8]: contains a general description of the types of material in the collection.

555 [9]: notes available access tools, for example "Unprocessed collection. Preliminary finding aid available. For further information, consult the Public Service Desk."

Optional fields:

041 [14] and 546 [15]: note languages represented.

506 [16]: notes any restriction.

Preliminary records can be exported [17] to OCLC and MARS.
