Abbreviations: [10]
From Kathy Glennan, MLA-L, 1/17/2014

- RDA generally eschews abbreviations. The primary exceptions are for:
  - Units of measurement
  - Abbreviations that are regularly used in resources and are commonly understood by users (e.g., "SATB", "op.")
  - Abbreviations that a resource uses to identify itself (e.g., "BWV" instead of "Bach-Werke-Verzeichnis")

Abbreviations are used only when they appear on the resource. The exceptions are no. and op. (which will be used the same way as in AACR2), followed by the standard AACR2 usage:
- in the title area, abbreviate only when abbreviated on the item; abbreviate in access points, thematic index numbers, voice range (e.g., "tenor), and units of measurements.
- Use "in." for inches; however, "cm" is no longer considered to be an abbreviation.
- Use "stereo" and "mono" (also no longer considered to be abbreviations), but spell out other terms ("quadrophonic," etc.)

Dimensions [12]:

AACR2: the system of measurement used to record dimensions varies depending on the type of resource.
RDA: metric units are used. (LCPS 3.5.1.3 allows for using inches for discs (RDA 3.5.1.4.4))

Metric units:

AACR2: they are considered abbreviations and are followed by a full stop (e.g., cm.)
RDA: they are treated as symbols and are not followed by a full stop (e.g., cm).

New to RDA:

- Capitalization [15]: RDA Appendix A: LC policy is to follow the capitalization on the resource or follow the instructions in Appendix A.

- Diacritics [16]: Transcribe when they appear; not necessary to add them when they are omitted from the resource.

- Abbreviations [10]: RDA Appendix B: Transcribe as found on the RDA preferred source; otherwise do not use abbreviations

Other things:

- Parallel titles [17] may be taken from anywhere on the resource, and are not enclosed in brackets
  - However, other title information [18] must be taken from the same source as the title proper.

- Statement of responsibility [19] may be taken from anywhere on the resource
  - Transcribe title, terms of address, etc.
° Transcribe all persons named, even when there are four or more

Edition statement:
° Abbreviations are used only when they appear on the resource
° Use the form of numbering (e.g., Arabic, roman, etc.) that appear on the resource

Inaccuracies, omissions [20]:
AACR2: Inaccuracies are transcribed followed either by [sic] or by "i.e." and the correction in square brackets. Missing letters supplied in square brackets.
RDA: Inaccuracies are transcribed as they appear on the source of information. If necessary, a note may be made correcting the inaccuracy, and the title as corrected may be recorded as a variant title if it is considered important for access.

Examples
AACR2 1.0F
245 10 ¤a Morton Feldmans Untitled [sic] composition für Cello und Klavier
246 3 ¤a Morton Feldmans Untitled composition für Cello und Klavier

RDA 1.7.9, 2.3.1.4
245 10 ¤a Morton Feldmans Untitled composition für Cello und Klavier
246 3 ¤i Title should read: ¤a Morton Feldmans Untitled composition für Cello und Klavier

AACR2 1.0F
245 00 ¤a Horn sonat[a]s
246 3 ¤a Horn sonats

RDA 1.7.9, 2.3.1.4
245 00 ¤a Horn sonats
246 3 ¤i Title should read: ¤a Horn sonatas

Dashes, brackets
AACR2: ... (ellipses) and [ ] square brackets are replace by — and ( ).
RDA: The punctuation is transcribed as it appears on the source.

Example
Title appears on the resource as
...Huésped de las nieblas...
...Guest from the mists...
for flute and piano

AACR2 1.1B1F
245 10 ¤a --Huésped de las nieblas-- = ¤b --Guest from the mists-- : for flute and piano

RDA 1.7.3
245 10 ¤a ...Huésped de las nieblas... = ¤b ...Guest from the mists... : for flute and piano

* Use the label:
° even when there is a collective title elsewhere on the resource
° only if the information found there represents the resource as a whole

For multi-disc sets, use the labels collectively

Edition statement [21]: (250 field) will now encompass elements relating to the format of music that were scattered over various ° Musical presentation statement (e.g., Score and parts), an AACR2 element tagged in the 254 field

° Statements of responsibility relating to the format of music (e.g., vocal score by [name]), currently tagged in 245/‡c
° Voice range statements (e.g., High voice)
Publication statement [22]: A new, repeatable MARC field (264) is used for production, publication, distribution, printing, and Abbreviations [10] are not used unless they appear on the resource.

Place of publication: if more than one, only the first is required (2.8.2)
° Include all hierarchies of place, e.g., New Haven, CT, USA
° No requirement to include place in the US if the publisher is not in the US
Publisher name: if more than one, the first is required (2.8.4)
° Use the full name as found on the resource, e.g., Theodore Presser Company, Hildegarde Publishing Company
° Include all corporate hierarchies of the name of publisher
Date of publication: record the date as found on the resource ° LCPS 1.8.2 (first alternative) says to transcribe roman numerals and not convert to Arabic

Place, name, and/or date of publication not identified on resource:
° AACR2: [S.l.], [s.n.], [n.d.]
° RDA: [place of publication not identified], [publisher not identified], [date of publication not identified]
° LCPS instruction strongly encourages: supply a place of publication in brackets or date in brackets
° Each subfield is separately bracketed: D1.2.1: When adjacent elements within one area are to be enclosed in square brackets.

from: RDA Basics [23] (PPT)

Publication dates and copyright (©)/phonogram (ı) dates [24] are different elements in RDA and the copyright date may not be the same as the date of publication. If the date of publication is unknown, use [Date of publication not identified] or an estimated date in brackets, with a question mark, if necessary.

Copyright/phonogram date is not required if a publication date is known. However, for music materials, it is strongly suggested that copyright/phonogram date is included, even when they are the same as the publication date.
° Record the latest copyright date; for recordings, prefer dates over © dates.

Extent [25] (RDA 3.4)/Physical description (AACR2):
The number and type of units (a physical or logical constituent of a resource; e.g., a volume, audiocassette, film reel, a map, a unit; e.g., a page of a volume, a frame of a microfiche, a record in a digital file)
° Give the extent if the resource is complete or if the total extent is known
Use the appropriate term, which may be a term from the carrier type list (3.3.1.3 [8]) or a general term (3.4.1.3)

Notated music:
Some terms are no longer used.

Additionally, some details are given even if they are standard for the type of resource:

* type of recording: analog, digital (3.16.2.3)
* recording medium (3.16.3.3)
* playing speed (3.16.4.3)
* groove characteristic (3.16.5.3) (e.g., microgroove)
* track configuration (3.16.6.3)
* tape configuration (number of tracks on an audiotape) (3.16.7.3) (e.g., 12 track)
* playback (3.16.8.3) (e.g., mono, stereo)
* special playback characteristics (3.16.9.3) (e.g., Dolby, CD audio, DVD audio, MP3, SACD)
* tape configuration (number of tracks on an audiotape)
* dimensions of cartridges and cassettes, including the width of the tape
  * metric units are used for dimensions, but RDA allows for the use of another system of measure (e.g., inches: 4 3/4 in.)

General material designation:

Three new fields (336, 337, 338) collectively replace the General material designation (245 ♦h).

See Content, Media, and Carrier [27] (RDA 6.9, 3.2, 3.3 & MARC 336-338)

Notation [28]: indicating type of notation, even with it is staff notation, is required in RDA (7.13; see also metadata registry [29], notation [32], neumatic notation [33], number notation [34], solmization [35], staff notation, tablature [36], tonic sol-fa [37].

Uniform titles/Preferred titles (See also A comparison of uniform titles (AACR2) and preferred titles (RDA) [38] In progress)

Two separate steps in RDA
1. record attributes (6.2-6.26)
2. determine which attributes to use in the authorized access point (6.27-6.31)

Authorized access points comprise
* preferred name of the creator (if applicable)
  * preferred title of work (6.2.1 [39], 6.14 [40], 6.28.1.1-6.28.1.8 [41])
  * additional elements to differentiate among other works/expressions (6.28.1.9-6.28.1.11 [42])

Differences from AACR2:
* no equivalent to AACR2's "works of mixed responsibility"
* "work(s)" in RDA refers to both individual works and compilations
* medium of performance in access point can contain more than three elements
* standard chamber combinations (e.g., string quartet, piano trio, etc.) are no longer used
* use "cello" not "violoncello"
* spell out "acc." "arr." and "unacc."
* fewer restrictions on recording key
* librettos and operas are considered separate works
