Keep in mind that although the second column gives the number of bibliographic records represented by that heading, the number does not include the authority record.

Under this entry, there are actually two records: an authority record and a bibliographic record.

To get to the title index for the four bibliographic records, either click on the "OK" button or on the highlighted entry.

Titles index

- The first column indicates whether it is a reference, an authorized heading authority records, or, when the space is blank, a heading that has no authority record.
- The second column indicates how many bibliographic records include that heading.
 - If it is a reference, there should always be no ("0") bibliographic records with that heading.
 - If it is an authorized heading, there will usually be, but not always, at least one bibliographic record associated with it.
 - If it is neither a reference or an authorized heading, there will be at least one bibliographic record with that heading.
- The third column includes the heading itself.
- The fourth column indicates the heading type. In this case, they are all "personal name" headings.
- The titles index has four columns.
 - $\circ\;$ The first column includes the heading found in the bibliographic record.
 - $\circ\,$ The second column indicates the main entry in the bibliographic record.
