

Apply for a DH Seed Grant

April 21, 2017

The Digital Humanities Lab is excited to announce a new round of Seed Grants to support digital humanities research over the summer and fall semester. These grants may be used to hire a developer, create a digital corpus, or host a workshop.

Yale graduate students and faculty are eligible to apply. Applications should be emailed to dhlab@yale.edu [1] by Friday, April 21. For more information, please visit our Seed Grants [2] page.
