WebGL Meeup: Call for Interest

Spring semester

The Digital Humanities Lab invites expressions of interest in a Web Graphics Library (WebGL) meetup this semester. WebGL is an increasingly popular JavaScript API for building 3D environments. If you work with WebGL or have a strong interest in using it and are looking for others on campus you can informally build or talk with, email the DHLab [1] by Friday, January 26. We will coordinate a February meetup in the lab.
