Treasures from the Yale Film Archive: MEDIUM COOL

September 7, 2018

To mark the 50th anniversary of the 1968 Democratic National Convention in Chicago, we invite you to join us for Haskell Wexler’s Medium Cool, followed by a discussion with Professor Beverly Gage. Robert Forster stars as a TV news cameraman in what Vincent Canby described as “a film of tremendous visual impact, a kind of cinematic Guernica, a picture of America in the process of exploding into fragmented bits of hostility, suspicion, fear, and violence.” Featuring the music of Love and the Mothers of Invention, Medium Cool was added to the National Film Registry in 2003. 35mm print form the Yale Film Archive.
