

Snowy weather conditions on Wednesday February 5th

The Yale University Library is open today. However, due to the poor road conditions and staff shortages, the following services will not be available:

The Sterling Memorial Library Microform Reading Room will be closed.

The Geology Library will be closed.

Library delivery services are cancelled this morning. We will reassess travel conditions at noon and make a determination about afternoon deliveries at that time.

Please check <http://emergency.yale.edu> [1] for updates on university services. Information on the university's
