

A lunchtime musical revue from "A Cure for What Ails You" exhibition

Wednesday, April 2, 2014 12:00–1:00pm

The Medical Historical Library in the Cushing/Whitney Medical Library

333 Cedar Street, New Haven, CT 06510

Come to the Medical Historical Library for a live musical revue of selections from our exhibit “A Cure for What Ails You.” Bring your lunches into the Medical Historical Library and enjoy wonderful vocals with instrumental accompaniment. Songs range from rag time and art song to rock and country music and will be performed by Medical and Music Library staff and doctors from the Medical School. Selections include Loretta Lynn's "The Pill" and Irving Berlin's "They've Got Me Doing It Now."

External link: http://www.library.yale.edu/librarynews/2014/03/a_lunchtime_musical_revue_for.ht... [1]

Source URL: <https://web.library.yale.edu/news/2014/03/lunchtime-musical-revue-cure-what-ails-you-exhibition>

Links

[1] http://www.library.yale.edu/librarynews/2014/03/a_lunchtime_musical_revue_for.html