

October 30 "Chinese Christianity Sources from the Republican Period @ Yale: John Sung Papers and more!"

October 13, 2015

10/30 Chinese Christianity Sources from the Republican Period @ Yale: John Sung Papers and more!

Instructors

Tang Li, Public Services Librarian, East Asia Library

Martha Smalley, Special Collections Librarian, Divinity Library

Time and place

2:30 pm—3:30 pm, Room 218, Sterling Memorial Library

John Sung ??? (1901-1944) was a prominent Chinese Christian evangelist whose enduring influence is still recognized through East Asia. The correspondence, writings, and extensive diaries of Sung recently acquired by the Yale Divinity Library shed new light on his life and work, as well as the historical development of Christianity in Republican China. This workshop will give a detailed overview of John Sung papers and showcase their high research value. It will also introduce you to other Chinese Christianity sources from the Republican period at the Yale library collections.

Please come to join us. We hope to see you there!
