April 29, 2016

Celebrating Shakespeare’s 400th anniversary of his death, we now have streaming access to seventeen Globe on Screen videos via Drama Online [1]. These productions are filmed live at the Globe Theatre in London, and most are new to us in streaming form. A particular highlight is the all-male production of TWELFTH NIGHT with Mark Rylance as Olivia [2]. There’s much more in Drama Online on Shakespeare’s plays, of course, including the Arden Shakespeare editions, audio recordings, and critical texts [3]. Digital Theatre Plus also includes several Shakespeare productions [4], including a hilarious MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING set in the 1980s [5]. Happy watching!

External link: http://web.library.yale.edu/arts/news/globeonscreen [6]
Links