IT Accessibility

November 30, 2016

IT Accessibility strives to make online resources available to the widest group of users. Please join us for this SCOPA forum on December 7 at 9:00 am in the Sterling Memorial Library Lecture Hall where presenters will discuss how Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) 2.0 Level AA will be, and are, being implemented throughout the University and in the Library.

Speakers include: Michael Harris, Information Architect & Accessibility Lead, ITS; David Hirsch, Director of Academic IT Strategy, Center for Teaching & Learning; Tracy MacMath, User Interface Programmer, Library IT; Lisa Sawin, Director of User Experience & Digital Strategy, ITS; & Steven Wieda, Senior Web Developer, Library IT.

All members of the Yale community are welcome and refreshments will be served.
