

Know Before You Go: Researching East Asia in US – East Asian Collection, Duke University

February 17, 2017

This Know Before You Go: Researching East Asia in U.S. workshop series invites librarians and directors from major East Asian collections in the U.S. to introduce their rare and unique resources, recent acquisitions, digitization projects, travel grants, and access policies. In this session on Friday, February 24 (12:30pm in Room 218 in SML), we will hear from Ms. Luo Zhou, Chinese Studies Librarian at Duke University, and Dr. Kristina Troost, Head of International Area Studies and Japanese Studies Librarian at Duke University. You will have the rare opportunity to meet and connect with them before visiting their libraries to conduct your own research during the summer or in the near future.

A light lunch will be provided, thanks to generous support from the Council on East Asian Studies.
