

Student Research at Yale University Library Opening Reception

October 11, 2017

All are welcome to join the opening reception for the new Student Research at YUL exhibit on Wednesday, October 25th from 4:30 pm-6:30 pm in the Periodicals Reading Room. Students and nominating librarians will give brief remarks at 4:45 in the Sterling Memorial Library Exhibition Corridor. Light refreshments will be served.

This annual exhibit in the Sterling Memorial Library Exhibits Corridor highlights four Yale students' exceptional research at the Yale University Library. The subjects represented are as diverse as the Yale Library collections and convey a combination of both complete and ongoing research. Students share key library resources important to their research ranging from online databases to favorite study spaces.

Speaker(s): Jun Yan Chua '18, Saybrook College, History; Sarah Holder '17, Saybrook College, American Studies; Daphne Martin '19, Morse College, Classics & History of Art; Eve Romm '18, Ezra Stiles College, Literature.

Source

URL:<https://web.library.yale.edu/news/2017/10/student-research-yale-university-library-opening-reception?page=2>